Fondly remembering UBI's own graduating ceremony that took place in Brussels earlier this month Dievoet said, "We look forward to a long-term alliance with Jaro Education and want to see continued development of our MBA programme. When you travel, you are likely to run into UBI students placed in high professional positions."

Chief Guest Prof Joshi, was happy to see the vibrant faces of all the graduating students at the outset of their professional careers in international business. He appreciated the features of the programme, especially since the international exposure that it brings to students in India. "This international exposure brings high benchmarking among our institutes which is great news. Additional features like online exams provide flexibility and corporate interfacing provides invaluable industry experience in this dual-mode programme," he said.

Prof Salunkhe was proudly beaming while addressing his students. "We have done the initial job of educating you. Now it is your job to climb the corporate ladder and make Jaro Education proud. Be life-long learners," he ended.
