Russian University and JARO Education launches International MBA in India

>> Ulyanovsk State University, Russia

>> Mr Sanjay Salunkhe with Russian officials

Increasing international cooperation and expansion of multinational organizations across the globe is giving a new dimension to management education system. Many multi-national companies are setting up base in India; they scout for professionals who have exposure or knowledge of International business culture and management. Thus the demand for an International MBA program is on rise.

Irrespective of age, everyone has to rejuvenate his or her career in order to get fast promotion in the corporate world. Working executives, entrepreneurs and housewives have limited time at their disposal because of which an online international MBA program as well as weekend international MBA program seems like the best option for them.

To address this huge demand for skilled manpower with an exposure and knowledge of International expertise and knowledge available to Indian students and working professionals.
