

Jaro Education teams up with employment exchange for a cause

Sukhada P Khandge

With an aim to fine tune the basic skills of all those unemployed enrolled with employment exchange, Jaro Education in association with employment exchange recently inaugurated a free coaching programme for such youth. Route2Jobs online free coaching programme is meant to coach for employment entrance examination.

As a part of their Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) as well as Maharashtra Day initiative, Jaro Education started this programme so that youngsters are trained in all the required fields to get a job. As a part of this programme, around 1000 students, who have enrolled themselves with the employment exchange will be trained every month. They will be providing this online coaching free of cost with the sole intention to bridge the gap between employment and employability of qualified youth.

Assistant Director of Employment and Self Employment, Government of Maharashtra for Mumbai suburban and Thane, NO Bhatgajar said, "We were waiting for such a service provider to impart right kind of skills to mammoth number of unemployed youth registered with 40 odd employment exchanges across Maharashtra. It will surely help the youth learn skills and make them prepare for the right job opportunity."

He asked Jaro Education to share the success stories of the candidates who will get placed in various companies so that others can feel confident and motivated. He also assured that his department will work day in and day out to make sure that the youth is trained

UPGRADING SKILLS

- ▶ Candidates registered with employment exchange hail from lower socio-economic class and have undergone their education in regional medium
- ▶ They are not proficient with computer and lack communication skills, soft skills and vocational guidance. All these skills will be taught to students in the programme and placed appropriately. The candidates registered with employment exchange hail from lower socio-economic class and have undergone their education in regional medium. They are not proficient in handling computers and lack communication skills, soft skills and vocational guidance. Therefore all these skills will be taught to students in the programme.
- ▶ Route2jobs will not only provide training to clear the entrance exams but also impart basic computer literacy and soft skills

Route2jobs will not only provide training to clear the entrance exams but also impart basic computer literacy and soft skills; thus preparing them for this highly competitive world. It is specialised in providing integrated, multi-disciplinary and focused educational programmes. It believes in learning through innovation. Hence, they have introduced virtual classroom facilities for the students and working executives who can attend live or recorded lectures at their convenient time.